The bracelets are made of the utmost quality and are all checked prior to dispatch of order to ensure no fault. Because our bracelets are stretchy, we cannot guarantee the inner stretch elastic of them. Although they are one size fits all, everyone handles our bracelets differently. One person could handle them more assertively than another. Therefore we cannot replace bracelets that the elastic breaks on. If you have another part of your bracelet that defectively breaks, you must contact us by email to receive a return authorization prior to any return. Returns will only be accepted within 7 days of receipt of order. We do not issue cash refunds, we will only issue credit for another item or a replacement item which will be completed within 14 days.
